IS ILL FEELING IN THE CHURCH

Dr. Albritton's Congregation Is Sadly Divided.

HOW TROUBLE WAS STARTED

NUMBER OF MEMBERS ARE AR-RAYED AGAINST PASTOR.

ISSATISFACTION with their pastor's methods and consequent differences in the congregation of the First Methodist church have led to the quiet withdrawal of a number of the church members and a concerted thrown upon me.

"The trouble before I came here was of some one else in his place at the coming Utah conference of the church in August.

Dr. Albritton, himself, does not take the matter seriously and his friends, who form an influential portion of the congregation, assert that his pastorcongregation, assert that his pastorate has been successful and satisfactory to all but a few members who are displeased because the new pastor has taken control of the church affairs from these few and placed it in the hands of the official board, where made this statement, "he scolded his official board for not being more diligent in attendance at their sessions and the weekly prayer meetings. He told them in plain language that they should be present at every meeting of the board and should attend every prayer meeting service, or they should not belong to the official board. In fact, he told them that if they could not be present at every meeting he wished they would get off of the board. Some of the members of the board might have been a little negligent to be scored for it in the way they terations in the church that would have been rather expensive and would have run the church in debt. board did not want to go in debt, and this, of course, caused dissatisfaction, "Now it happened that Bishop Mc-Cabe, who knew Dr. Albritton in the east, was present at the church the first Sunday he preached," continued the official, "and being a close friend of Dr. Plummer, who was a prominent member, asked the latter to write him and tell him how the church and Dr. Albritton were getting along. Dr. Plummer, as I know, did not write as requested, but he finally received a letter from the bishop asking him again for information about the church and the minister. The doctor wrote back that Dr. Abritton had been rak-ing the official board over the coals, and also wanton some improvements made in the church that would put

"The result was that Bishop McCabe wrote to Dr. Albritton and took him to task kindly about his attitude tomatter. Dr. Albritton, it seems, took offense, not understanding the conditions under which the letter was writ-ten by Dr. Plummer, and the result is that this and other things have led to the condition that now exists.

Offends Church Members. "Then, too, Dr. Albritton has offended a number of his members by taking them to task for trivial things. their names out so every one knows. breaks' frequently that hurt the mem-some of the members of the church that jealousy enters into the matter to a certain extent. Mr. Henry, the ite with his congregation, and they did everything in their power to keep him here when he left, and Dr. Albritton was appointed in his place by Bishop

When Dr. Albritton came here, he seemed to be jealous of the love of the congregation for Mr. Henry," said this member, "and he has seemingly been rather cool towards those who were known to be staunch friends of the former pastor. In fact the feeling was such that Mr. Henry has not written to his best friends here for fear his letters might not be inter preted correctly, and although Mrs. Henry has been in the city visiting for some time, no mention of it has been made by Dr. Albritton in his church paper, and this has been noticed.

Go to Other Churches.

This condition of affairs has caused a good many young people to go away to other churches, and many of the members have held aloof, so that the evening congregations have dwindled is not in the condition it should be. "Of course, Dr. Albritton is he only for a year, but he may be reap-pointed, and as the question of a change always comes up at the con-ference it is quite likely that this affair will be brought to the attention of the conference, which will be conducted by Bishop Warren of Denver.' There are a number of members, it is said, who heartly support Dr. Albritten in his actions, and this only adds to the difficulty of the situation While Dr. Albritton regards the dissensions as only a tempest in a tea-pot, he regrets the necessity of discussing them in the newspapers. Last evening he said he had had but little to do with the matters in controversy, but holding the position he does he has been drawn into the affair.

"Bishop Fowler appointed me," marked Dr. Albritton, "and so far as I know he has concurred in everything and among the twenty-three of them I believe that there are not more than two or three who are opposed to me. I am assured by Dr. Ewing, Judge Bowdle, Messrs. Dix, Foulks. Timby, Huffman, Rivers, Hoag, Greeson, Kerrick and others of the board that the church is in better condition than at any time since the old trouble.

Says Attendance Is Increasing. "Everything is moving along well in the church now and there need be no factional differences. Since I came here the morning congregation has doubled and the evening services are attended by four times as many as there were before Mr. Henry left. The auditorium is now filled every Sunday, and that doesn't indicate that the ndebtedness has been contracted.

"The entire recent trouble dates from the time the choir leader resigned. She became dissatisfied with the quar-

that Mr. Henry let half a dozen women run the church, while I insisted that the administration must be through the official board. One of the members took issue with me on this point, and the result was that Bishop McCabe received some letters about the affair. Bishop McCabe wrote to me, and in response to my letter of explanation has wrote an exploration to me and in the wrote an exploration and the wrote an exploration.

he wrote an apology to me

Friendly Toward All. "I have nothing to say about Dr. Plummer now, I have done nothing in opposition to him nor to any other member of the church. "With reference to my sermon on the factional disturbances, what I said was that the church would move on nevertheless. It was said in a Christian spirit, regretting that there were any

"As I said before, Mr. Henry, my predecessor, permitted half a dozen women to run affairs. An old gentle-man who is in his dotage was allied with these women and he busied himself carrying news, but I would never hear any of his gossip. The official board knew of this condition when Mr. Henry was the pastor, and shortly after I was called to the pulpit, but the members felt that it would be better, in view of the Mabry trouble, to let my predecessor go out quietly rather than to make a fuss.

"Doubtless I ought to say that I broke down with nervous prostration in Butte and came here with my wife, hoping that the change of altitude would be beneficial to both of us, but particularly to her. After five months of attendance upon her she died from Bright's disease. I was with her con-stantly in her sickness and made no visits outside, barely taking time to fill my Sunday and prayer meeting engagements in the pulpit. In this condition I was irritable and perhaps spoke hastily at times, but I think it will be granted that I was hardly blamable."

THIEVES REAP RICH HARVEST

Diamond "Lifters" Are at Work in the City.

SILKS LOSES $400 STONE

church is running down.

"As to plunging the church into debt, that is absurd. Just after I came here I lifted a debt of $300 and no further GEMS REPORTED "NIPPED."

A GANG of expert diamond "lifters" is in the city and for several tette and the music committee accepted her resignation before I knew anything about it. I had nothing to do with this affair, but the blame was strated themselves to be so clever in their work that the man who goes into a crowd with a headlight in his shirt front would better have it chained around his neck or the chances are he will find it each or the chances are he will find it each or the chances are he will find it each or the chances are he strated themselves to be so clever in will find it among the missing when he strolls out of the multitude.

Within the last few days diamonds to the value of $1,000 or more have been stolen. The most valuable one was taken from George Silks, a well known man of this city. Mr. Silks went to the ball game a few days ago and wore in his shirt front a stone valued at $400. How it happened he cannot tell, but after the game was over some friend noticed a lack of glitter from under his collar and discovered that the diamond was gone. Examination of the shirt showed that it had been nipped out as smoothly as could be. As to when the gem was stolen Mr. Silks has no idea. He was in the crowd around the ball field, but says he never his collar and discovered that the dia-mond was gone. Examination of the shirt showed that it had been nipped noticed anyone too close to him and never suspected that anything was vrong until his attention was called to the missing stone.

Lost an Heirloom.

A. Ebart, a stranger, who was visit-ing in the city with some of his friends, had a valuable stone nipped from his shirt front while coming in from Salt-air a few nights ago. The stone was one that had been in Mr. Ebart's family for over 100 years, and while not so valuable in itself, was priceless to him because of the fact that it was an heirloom, Mr. Ebart had the stone when head of the fact that it was an heirloom, Mr. Ebart had the stone when he boarded the train, he is sure but when he landed in the city it was nissing. A stranger whose name could not be learned lost a valuable sparkler while coming down from Ogden on the train Saturday night. Several days ago W. C. Shipp had his diamond stud The city, it is said, is full of the most clever grafters and crooks that can be found anywhere in the country. They are flocking in to be on hand for the Elks' convention, and come early, it is said, to "get on to the lay of the land," so they will not be at a loss for a place to turn when the time for wholesale robbing comes.

The crooks, it is declared, are of the "Gentleman Jim" variety. They dress in up-to-date styles and have the appearance of polished gentlemen, but while they are talking to a man they rob him of everything he has, without his suspecting that anything is wrong. until the thief and the valuables are
